Assemblies

Open the book visited on Wednesday and told the story of 'The Big Spender' and discussed forgiveness with the children.

For our main assembly and as part of our ongoing eco-projects, on Tuesday, the eco-committee invited the team from Biffa to talk about all things waste and recycling. We enjoyed an hour-long workshop where we learnt about how different materials are made and the various ways they can be disposed of. The children posed some very thoughtful and insightful questions, demonstrating their engagement and commitment to sustainable practices within our school community.

Environment Minister in our School's Pupil Parliament, Bonnie, said she found the assembly very interesting and felt "good that we have backup to help protect the environment."

BRASS LESSONS

Following on from a very successful Spring term during which Fistral class participated in brass lessons, Kirsten Burden, the Music Service teacher, has availability for more pupils if any children are interested in learning. Please visit the music service website for full details: <https://cmst.co.uk/>

CLUBS—We sent a letter home this week about the Summer Term clubs which will start next week. If you haven't seen this yet please ask your child for it. Please send the reply slip back on Monday if you haven't already done so. We will then allocate pupils to clubs. Please assume they have got a place unless we contact you. If demand for Gardening Club is high we may have to split the group and will let you know the dates when your child will attend.

BIKEABILITY

We sent an email out to all parents of pupils in Years 5 and 6 who had shown an interest in doing the Bikeability training. Please make sure you complete the online consent form as soon as possible. Let us know if you have any problems with accessing this.

Poetry Workshop

Fistral Class were visited by the poet Clive Sanders as part of the Never Such Innocence Poetry Workshop. The Children were amazing and enjoyed listening to Clive's interesting Military life and writing poetry inspired by dandelions.

All equipment provided and parents will have to stay on site during the session. There is a maximum of 20 children per session, so parents will need to call Nick, PGA Pro, to book their sessions.
