

Originally from St Ives, I moved to St Erth village in 2013 where my youngest 2 children love attending the school and nursery. I feel privileged to have worked in education for over 20 years, originally as a Teaching Assistant, and later as an Early Years Teacher and Special Educational Needs Coordinator. I now work for Truro and Penwith College, where I lecture and assess on their Childcare and Education courses. Outside of work, I love spending time outdoors and making memories with my family.
